Statement of Purpose and Alignment

This catalog provides a list of all of the Informative/Expository prompts that are currently active in MY Access!® and available for use at the Upper Elementary School level. Each prompt aligns to Common Core and State educational standards and assessment practices expected of Upper Elementary School students for the Informative/Expository writing genres. All prompts also align to the educational standards outlined in our rubrics and writing genres, which in turn align to the National and State education standards. Each genre was re-evaluated and updated in accordance with current academic standards and practices to better serve teachers and students. As a result of this and the MY Access!® redesign, several prompts previously found in other genres have been moved to account for these shifts in educational standards and to provide a more accurate representation of the prompts in the system. Please refer to the list of migrated prompts available in the MY Access!® Resource and Training Center to locate prompts that recently moved to other genres, or contact our staff for further assistance in locating specific prompts in the system.

Catalog Overview

The catalog provides an overview of each prompt in the system. Each catalog entry provides the title of the prompt and the text of the prompt task. The catalog entry only includes the prompt task and basic data related to the prompt. Sources and our in-house specific genre-based prompt instructions are not included. These are accessible in the system for each prompt. However, wherever possible and if applicable, a list of source titles, authors, and data are provided for each prompt entry.

Lexile level data provides a basic reference for the textual complexity levels found in particular sources. This data features in each prompt entry as both a range (from lowest to highest level, or approximate level, for a prompt's sources) and a specific value (if known or available). Only text-based sources include a Lexile level. Any multimedia source, such as a video, audio clip, map, or chart, will feature a Lexile reading of 'N/A' in the system for 'not applicable.' Teachers are encouraged to perform their own assessment of any Lexile levels provided for sources and to assess each prompt to ensure the content is appropriate for your students. All genres include prompts with and without sources. The quantity and complexity of sources varies according to education standards in each grade band.

A Note about Sources

The catalog lists details about the sources for a particular prompt when known. Sources are considered unknown when a prompt only recommends rather than requires particular sources, or requires students (and/or teachers) to research and provide their own sources. In these cases, a prompt will list a zero as the number of sources. However, this does not necessarily mean the prompt does not include, require, or recommend sources. It merely means the actual source number is unknown or specific sources are not provided. Sometimes a zero source number does simply mean the prompt does not require, need, or provide sources. Some prompts specify a required number of sources to use, while others do not. Each prompt entry in the catalog records the number of sources (if known), Lexile levels (if applicable and/or known), source titles and authors, and notes pertaining to the types of sources used in the prompt. Each Table of Contents entry includes the title of a prompt, whether it is IntelliMetric™ or Pilot, and the number of sources. Source notes provide explanation as to why certain sources were not included directly in the prompt, most often due to copyright regulations and/or length of the source. Other source notes specify if a prompt is source-based, quotation-based, or research-based. Quotations, even if integrated into the prompt task as a stepping off point, are included in the catalog as a source.

Index and Appendices

New features in the catalogs include the Index and Appendices section found at the end of each catalog. The purpose of these sections is to provide a list of prompt titles at a glance that are specifically source-based, quotation-based, and research-based, as well as a list of titles for prompts that do not require sources or evidence-based research. New features are planned for subsequent publications of the catalogs to make viewing and accessing prompts easier for teachers.

IntelliMetric™ Prompts

A Clumsy Mistake

Prompt Source(s):	0	Source Lexile Range:	N/A
--------------------------	---	-----------------------------	-----

Everyone has made a clumsy mistake in the past such as falling down at the worst possible time or spilling something on a favorite shirt. Have you ever made a clumsy mistake? How did everyone around you react? Were people involved embarrassed, or did everyone have a good laugh?

In a detailed essay, write about a time when you did something clumsy.

A Day at Home

Prompt Source(s):	0	Source Lexile Range:	N/A

Prompt Source(s): 1	Source Lexile Range: AD820L

Source One: The Velveteen Rabbit By Margery Williams; illustrated by William Nicholson

Source Lexile Level: AD820L

Source(s) not provided due to copyright law and/or length of source(s).
Teachers should provide access to the specified source(s).

In the story The Velveteen Rabbit, written by Margery Williams and illustrated by William Nicholson, the Skin Horse says to the Velveteen Rabbit,

“When a child loves you for a long, long time, not just to play with, but really loves you, then you become real.”

Write about the one toy you have had at any time in your life that you have loved the most.

Greek Mythological Figure for a Day

----------------------------	-----------------------------	-----

A unit on Greek Mythology would include various Greek mythological figures, such as Zeus, Aphrodite, Apollo, Athena, Hades, and Cronus. Think about the unique characteristics of the Greek mythological figures, such as their personalities, their symbols, and what they represent. Do any of them remind you of yourself? If you could be any Greek mythological figure for a day, which one would you choose and why?

In a detailed essay, explain why you chose this particular Greek mythological figure, including what you like about him or her.

Handling a Bully

Almost everyone has had to deal with a situation involving a bully. School districts, teachers, and parents have become more aware of the amount of bullying that occurs and the effect it has on students. What are different ways that a bullying situation can be handled? When do parents and teachers need to get involved?

In a well-developed essay, discuss different ways that bullying situations at school can be handled. Include facts, details, and examples to support your discussion.

Read this paragraph from a story titled "The New Boy in Town."

David was shocked by his new friend Carl's suggestion. Try out for the play? David had always enjoyed singing and acting - but only in the privacy of his room. Unlike David, Carl sang on the bus, in the cafeteria line, and almost everywhere else he had an audience. David, on the other hand, didn't like to be the center of attention. He preferred to blend in with the crowd. According to Carl, however, David didn't have to try out for one of the lead roles in the play. More importantly, David knew that Carl would continue to bother him about trying out until he agreed. Carl thought being in the play would help David meet more people and make new friends. David just hoped he wouldn't embarrass himself by forgetting his lines or tripping on the steps leading up to the stage. That was not the way he wanted the kids at his new school to get to know him.

Imagine David goes to your school. Think about David's problem. Write about what you would tell David he should do.

Resolution to Keep the Planet Clean

Prompt Source(s): 0 Source Lexile Range: N/A

Read these paragraphs from a story titled “My New Year's Resolution.”

On the last day of school before winter break, Amy's teacher, Mr. Case, made an announcement.

“Class,” he began, “soon it will be the New Year. I'd like each and every one of you to set a new goal for yourself for the coming year. Focus on something you would like to improve. When you have it figured out, write your new goal on a piece of paper and sign your name at the bottom as a pledge to try your hardest to achieve your new goal. This new pledge will be called your New Year's resolution. Keep this paper in your pocket as a reminder of what you have set out to accomplish.”

Amy knew right away what her New Year's resolution would be. She would work harder to help keep the planet clean.

Imagine Amy has come to you asking for your help. She wants to know what she can do to help keep the planet clean. Write about the advice you would give her about how to help keep the planet clean.

Index for Source-based and Non-source-based Prompts

The appendices that follow provide lists of prompts with different types of sources. These appendices are intended to assist teachers in more easily identifying and locating prompts in the catalog. Each appendix includes only the titles of prompts from this catalog. Prompts are arranged in alphabetical order in the catalog by type (IntelliMetric™ or Pilot), as indicated in the Table of Contents. The appendices are divided into two main categories: source-based (including research-based and quotation-based prompts) and non-source-based prompts. The first three appendices are for source-based prompts; the last appendix is for non-source-based prompts. The following are notes pertaining to the definitions and content specifications of source-based and non-source based prompts.

Source-based Prompts:

- Source-based prompts are research-based and often require sources (whether specified or not) and include quotation-based writing tasks.
- Some source-based prompts provide or indicate specific sources while others require students and/or teachers to conduct their own research to address a prompt topic.
- Quotation-based prompts require reference to, analysis of, and/or interpretation of a particular quotation.
 - Most quotation-based prompts integrate quotations into the prompt task rather than offer the quotation as a separate source.
 - Quotations are typically too brief compared to most sources or excerpts from works that are more extensive; thus they are usually not considered a formal 'source' for students to use in addressing a prompt task.
 - To prevent inaccuracy, Lexile levels for quotations are not provided due to the brevity of most quotations.
- The types of sources used in source-based prompts vary greatly by prompt and can include multimedia and text-based sources.

Non-source-based Prompts:

- Non-source-based prompts do not require or necessitate research and/or source-based evidence to complete the writing task.
- Most non-source-based prompts are typically knowledge, experience, and/or opinion-based prompt tasks.
