

Add Web Content to a Dashboard

Video Walkthrough

Note for Web Content Gadgets

It is possible for other website owners to add protections to their pages - called "framebreakers" - that prevent their site from being viewed within another. If a page that uses a framebreaker is added to a Supercruncher dashboard as a gadget, viewing the affected dashboard will instead redirect you to the embedded website. For security reasons, it is impossible to prevent this redirection from occurring.

If you discover that a framebreaking web page has been added to one of your dashboards, remove the gadget by clicking the x button on the gadget toolbar before loading has completed.
